Headline:
Mainly dry with some warm sunny spells.

Today:
Cloudy start across the far north and northwest with a little drizzle, the cloud lifting and breaking through the morning. Otherwise a dry day with some long spells of warm sunshine, although coasts cooler with mainly light northerly winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry evening and night with some late sunshine giving way to long clear spells overnight. With light winds turning chilly, especially in sheltered eastern parts. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Thursday:
A chilly start in places to a dry day with almost unbroken sunshine for many. With light winds it will feel warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Still some warm sunshine through Friday and the weekend. However it gradually becomes more unsettled with showers becoming more frequent, especially on Sunday when they may be heavy and thundery.
